Investment Risks

All investments involve risks, including possible loss of principal.

Equity Funds: Small-Cap funds are designed for investors who can accept short-term fluctuations in principal and earnings and can assume more risk typically associated with an aggressive growth fund. Small-Cap stocks tend to be more volatile and to drop more in down markets than larger cap stocks. Mid-cap stocks are more volatile and drop more in down markets than large-cap stocks. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stock. International investments are subject to special risks including currency fluctuations, social, economic and political uncertainties, which could increase volatility.

Fixed Income Funds: Bond prices are sensitive to changes in interest rates and a rise in interest rates can cause a decline in their prices. Investing in high-yield or lower rated securities is speculative and involves greater risks, including default, than higher rated securities. Therefore, they may entail greater risks of loss of principal and interest than investments in higher rated securities.
